Containing the Freſheſt Advices, Foreign and Domeſtic.

As we are informed that many People are deſirous of cultivating LUCERN GRASS in this Country, but are at a Loſs to know the Method of doing it; for the Benefit of the Publick we have publiſhed Mr. ROCQUE's PRACTICAL TREATISE on that Subject.

A PRACTICAL TREATISE on CULTIVATING LUCERN GRASS.

LUCERN Graſs will grow on any ſort of land, if water does not ſtand on it in winter to rot the roots.

The ſtrongeſt land is to be preferred; and the deeper it is for the roots to run down in, the better will be your crop.

Your land muſt be well ploughed and harrowed, and cleaned from all ſorts of weeds, as you do for barley; and the ſtronger the land is, the more ploughings and harrowings it will require to mellow and ſweeten it.

When you have got your land clear of weeds, and thoroughly mellowed and ſweetened, by often ploughing and harrowing, you muſt, in fine weather, ſow your Lucern ſeed, broad caſt (not in drills) about fourteen pounds to an acre.

It is likewiſe neceſſary to manure your land before the laſt ploughing; not with old rotten ſtuff, as is uſual, but with freſh ſtable dung, that has been thrown up in a hill three or four weeks to ferment; and when it is in full fermentation, you are to lay it on your land, and plough it in as ſoon as poſſible, that the ſalts of the dung may not have time to evaporate: Then harrow your land, and ſow your ſeed, and harrow it again with a light harrow, or a buſh harrow; and laſtly, run a roll all over it, to ſettle the ground, and break the clods.

If you intend to ſow corn amongſt it, you ſhou'd ſow only ſeed enough for half a crop, otherwiſe your corn will be apt to deſtroy your Lucern, eſpecially if it proves a wet ſeaſon, and your corn is ſtrong: But if you ſow no corn amongſt it, your Lucern will thrive much better.

From the beginning of March to the end of May you may ſow Lucern; but April, in dry weather, is the beſt time.

If much rain falls on the new ſown Lucern, it will be apt to ſwell too faſt, and burſt; but if it holds fine three or four days, it will be in no danger.

I do not approve of drilling the Lucern, becauſe the roots are too much confined in the drills; they ſay it is to clean the Lucern between the rows that they drill it; but it is for want of knowing the nature of Lucern, and which diſcourages people from ſowing it, drilling and hoing being very expenſive ways; the quickeſt and cheapeſt way being to ſow it broad caſt, as you do clover, and by much the beſt, as the roots will ſtand nearly at equal diſtances one from another every way.

To ſow it later than May is dangerous, in caſe of a dry ſeaſon, or its being eat up by the fly.

Lucern will not grow on freſh broke up land, it muſt be tilled a year or two; peas and beans for one year will prepare the ground; but, above all, potatoes excel for ſweetening and mellowing of land: The next ſeaſon a fallow for turnips; and when the turnips are fed off with ſheep, it will greatly enrich your land; then prepare for your Lucern.

You are to conſider the nature of your ſoil in regard to the tillage, and time of ſowing your Lucern ſeed. Heavy ſtrong land will require more ploughings and harrowings, and to be later ſown; light land will need fewer harrowings and ploughings, and to be ſown earlier, that the young plants may have ſtrength to ſend their roots deep into the ground, before the hot dry weather approaches to hurt them; and if you can give your ground, for the firſt time, a Trench ploughing, it would be of great advantage.

N. B. A Trench ploughing is when the plough goes twice in the ſame furrow; the firſt time a ſhallow furrow, to turn down the weeds, and the ſecond time you are to go as deep as you can, to turn up freſh mould, and to make room to bury the weeds the deeper. This ſerves two good purpoſes; one is to bury the weeds deep enough to rot, and the other is that it makes your ſtaple deeper, whereby the roots will run down the ſooner out of the reach of dry weather; and if the ſoil that is turned up be ever ſo four, the future ploughings, harrowings, and manuring, will ſweeten it ſufficiently for the reception of the ſeed.

In Languedoc they ſow no corn with it; and when the Lucern is ſix or ſeven inches high, they mow it; by which all the ſeeds of annual weeds are cut off and killed.

In Normandy, the climate being much the ſame as in England, they ſow corn with it.

In Picardy, and about Paris, they ſow it, ſome with, others without corn.

At Avignon, when their Lucern begins to decline, they manure their ground, and plough afreſh, and ſow it with corn and Lucern; and the old roots growing again with the ſeed, make another fine crop; the plowing will not hurt the old roots.

If you ſow a full crop of barley with your Lucern, and your barley grows very ſtrong, your beſt way is to mow down your barley when it is in the ear.

If you ſow forward peas on your new broke up land, to prepare it for Lucern, you may in one year perform it, and ſow turnips on it as ſoon as the peas are off; and the turnips may be fit to feed off by Chriſtmas; and as ſoon as the turnips are off, you are to plough the ground, and let it lie fallow till a proper time to ſtir it again, or give it a Trench ploughing, as before directed.

In hot ſummers the ſeed may be ſaved in England, but not from the firſt growth; that being generally too rank, and ſubject to rot at bottom.

In Languedoc they ſave it from the third growth; but as this climate is colder, it will not have time to ripen, if you do not ſave it from the ſecond growth.

A dry ſoil is beſt to ſave the ſeed upon, as it is not ſo apt to grow rank; and then it may poſſibly do from the firſt growth.

As Lucern, if the land be good whereon it is ſown, will bear ſeveral crops in one year, as clover generally does; what I mean by the firſt, ſecond and third growths, is, the different crops it produces in one ſummer, which is three, four, and ſometimes five mowings, in caſe you ſave no ſeed from it; which if you do, you muſt, as I ſaid before, ſave it from the ſecond growth; the ſeed will be ripe in September, and muſt be gathered by hand.

When your plants are one year old, you muſt, with a large harrow, go over your land as often as is ſufficient to root up annual weeds and graſs.

The harrow will not hurt the Lucern, the roots of it being very tough; this muſt be done in dry weather, before it begins to ſprout, which is very early in the ſpring, that the weeds and graſs may die; and if you ſee any patches of your ground where the ſeed miſcarried, you may ſow a little ſeed, and harrow it; if you give it a dreſſing, with rotten dung, at the ſame time, it will repay your expences with a larger crop; if the harrow ſhould cut or wound any of the roots, they will ſprout and grow notwithſtanding.

The ſecond ſpring, after ſowing, it will be proper to plough your ground, where your Lucern grows, with a drill plough, with a round ſhare, without a fin or feather, and without a coulter, to prevent the roots being too much hurt. Let it lie rough a few days, to dry and mellow; then, in fine weather, harrow it down fine, that you may mow it the cloſer.

One not uſed to the culture of Lucern, will be ready to think, that the ploughing amongſt the Lucern will deſtroy it; but I can ſhew any gentleman, that will take the trouble to call at my houſe, that experience teaches the contrary.

To make hay of Lucern, you muſt mow it as ſoon as the bloom appears, or rather ſooner; you muſt not ſpread it as you do common graſs, but let it lie in the ſwath as you do clover, and turn it in the ſame manner; otherwiſe the leaves will drop off.

If you let it ſtand too long before you mow it, the ſtalks will be too hard for cattle to eat it, and it loſes much of its goodneſs.

The hay is good for all ſorts of cattle; and when you feed horſes with it, you muſt not give them their full allowance of corn; the Lucern anſwering, in a great meaſure, the purpoſe of both corn and hay.

It is alſo the moſt profitable of any ſort of Fodder to feed horſes with in the ſummer, by mowing and giving it to them green.

If the land be good, the produce is incredible; and according to the goodneſs and depth of your ſoil, ſo will your crops be.

I have ſeen Lucern mowed five times in a ſeaſon, yielding, at the five mowings, nearly eight loads of hay per acre.

The ſpring ploughing amongſt your Lucern muſt be annually repeated; it kills the graſs and weeds, and makes the ground ferment, which promotes vegetation; and the oftener you refreſh it with a little dung on the ſurface, the better it will pay for your trouble. If the dung be laid on before the winter, that the ſalts may be waſhed in by the rain and ſnow, and ploughed in, in the ſpring, it will greatly add to your profit.

As the different ſorts of ſoil may require different methods of tillage, I have ſubjoined the deſign of a harrow, with two handles like a plough, which may ſerve in light land inſtead of the plough, and will ſave ſome labour.

The teeth muſt be ſet at ſeven or eight inches apart in the firſt row, and about five inches long without the wood. The ſecond row muſt be placed nine or ten inches behind the firſt; and ſo, that the teeth of the ſecond row may be againſt the ſpaces of the firſt row; and they muſt be an inch longer than thoſe in the firſt row; ſo that the ground being looſened a little by the firſt row, the teeth of the ſecond row may go ſomething deeper; and the teeth of the third and laſt row muſt be an inch longer than thoſe of the ſecond, and placed ſo as that they may go in the ſame tract with the teeth of the firſt row.

The harrow muſt be made of one ſolid piece, four or five inches thick, and the lower ſide muſt be rounded off towards the hinder part where the teeth are longeſt; whereby the perſon that holds it by the handles, preſſing down a little, may force the ſecond and third rows of teeth deeper than the firſt; and, by bearing up a little, he may prevent any but the firſt row from working. A very little practice will be ſufficient to make any one uſe it as occaſion requires; and it will be ſo ſteady, that no unevenneſs of the ground will be able to throw it out of its work, as a clod or ſtone will a common Harrow.

. . . . .   ⎫
 . . . .    ⎬ The manner the teeth are to
. . . . .   ⎭    be placed in.
```

N. B. The foremoſt row of teeth are placed in a line acroſs near the middle of the block or plank; the other two rows behind that, and the fore part of the harrow ſhould be heavier than the hind part when the weight of the harrow is ſuſpended on the firſt row of teeth. The teeth ſhould be pretty ſtrong, and round; their being ſquare, as uſual, may hurt the roots a little, which is to be avoided as much as poſſible, though it be of very little conſequence.

By Captain Jarvis, arrived at Boſton, in 38 Days from London, we have the following Advices, viz.

PARIS, April 19.

WE learn that 19 of our merchant veſſels were taken in the ſeas of America, by the Engliſh privateers, ſome days after the ſigning of the peace.

LONDON, May 2.

It is certain his Majeſty will not come to St. Paul's on the thankſgiving day.

May 3. We are aſſured that a contract of marriage is abſolutely ſigned between her Royal Highneſs the Princeſs Auguſta, and his Serene Highneſs the Hereditary Prince of Brunſwick; but when the nuptials will be celebrated we are not informed.

May 4. They write from Cadiz of the 29th of March, that orders had been received for opening the trade with England and Portugal on the ſame footing as before the late rupture.

May 6. Robert Wood, Eſq; Under Secretary of State, for the Southern Department, has reſigned.

It was yeſterday reported, that a rupture would ſhortly break out between the Salletines and Great-Britain, on occaſion of ſome arrears, which are ſaid to have been left undiſcharged, concerning the crew of the Litchfield man of war, lately in captivity there.

May 7. Yeſterday morning John Wilkes, Eſq; member of parliament for Ayleſbury, and late Colonel of the Buckinghamſhire militia, was brought into the court of common pleas, Weſtminſter, from the Tower of London, in purſuance of an order of the court of Tueſday laſt; when after ſeveral learned arguments which laſted about an hour, he was diſcharged by order of the court; immediately on this the numerous body of people in the hall gave three huzzas. After waiting ſome few minutes Mr. Wilkes came out by the Office of Ordnance into Old Palace Yard, and walked from thence on foot, ſurrounded by many gentlemen of diſtinction, to his houſe in Great George-ſtreet, amidſt the acclamations of 10,000 people, who accompanied him all the way with loud huzzas, and their hats waving in the air. As ſoon as Mr. Wilkes got into his houſe, he went up into his dining room, and opening the window, politely bowed to the people, which they returned with three freſh cheers, and then departed ſeemingly greatly ſatisfied. Lord Temple, and ſome other noblemen and gentlemen, paid Mr. Wilkes a viſit immediately after his diſcharge at his houſe aforeſaid.

It is obſerved by many, as ſomething unlucky or remarkable, that while the affair of Mr. Wilkes was depending, the thankſgiving for the peace came on, the Duke of Bedford ſet out on his return to Paris, the Duke de Nivernois took leave of his Majeſty, and the Lords Talbot and Bute retired into the country.

May 11. It is ſaid that the Earl of Bute intends to go from Harrowgate in Yorkſhire, to his ſeat at Mount Stuart, in Scotland, there to reſide till the meeting of Parliament.

It is reported that the iſland of Dominico, in the Weſt-Indies, ceded by the late peace, is to be made a free port for all Weſt-India commodities, under certain reſtrictions. It is further ſaid, that the price of ſugars will very ſpeedily fall conſiderably.

Wedneſday morning a duel was fought in Hyde-Park, between two gentlemen, whoſe minds were inflamed with the preſent rage of party, when one of them had two of his fingers ſhot off, and was likewiſe wounded in the breaſt.

The men of war that are to be commanded by Capt. Tyrrel, to go to America, where they are to be ſtationed in different places, in order to ſee the peace executed agreeable to the real contents and meaning thereof, will be ready to ſail by the beginning of next month.

Extract of a Letter from Exeter, May 7.

" On the thankſgiving day here, ſcarcely three of the churches out of fourteen had their bells ringing; and over moſt of the church doors hung Apples dreſſed up in crape, with this inſcription; " Exciſe the firſt fruits of Peace." About 6 o'Clock a proceſſion began in the manner following: 1ſt, A man riding on an Aſs, and on his back this Inſcription; " From Exciſe and the Devil, good Lord deliver us." A ſtring of apples in mourning, was hung round the aſs's neck, which was ſupported by 30 or 40 men, each having a white wand, with an apple at the top of it, alſo in mourning. Next came a cart, with a gallows fixed in it, and the plad figure hanging by the neck. After that followed a cyder hogſhead with a pall over it, carried by ſix men in black cloaks; on the pall was a number of eſcutcheons, with inſcriptions to the ſame effect as thoſe above-mentioned. The whole was accompanied by ſome thouſands of people, who proceeded hallooing and ſhouting thro' the principal ſtreets of the city; and at night a bonfire was prepared, into which they caſt the figure, and burnt it."

On Saturday Mr. Wilkes in perſon, attended only by one gentleman, went to Sir John Fielding's, and demanded a warrant to ſearch the houſes of the Earls of Egremont and Halifax, his Majeſty's principal ſecretaries of ſtate, for goods ſtolen from the houſe of the ſaid Wilkes, which he had information were lodged at the ſaid houſes; but the ſitting juſtice refuſed to iſſue the ſaid warrant.

The following letters were diſperſed laſt night.

My LORDS, Great George-ſtreet, May 6, 1763.

ON my return here from Weſtminſter-hall, where I have been diſcharged from my commitment to the Tower, under your Lordſhip's warrant, I find that my houſe has been robbed, and am informed that the ſtolen goods are in the poſſeſſion of one or both of your Lordſhips. I therefore inſiſt that you do forthwith return them to Your humble ſervant,

JOHN WILKES.

SIR, May the 7th, 1763.

IN anſwer to your letter of yeſterday, in which you take upon you to make uſe of the indecent and ſcurrilous expreſſions of your having found your houſe had been robbed, and that the ſtolen goods are in our poſſeſſion; we acquaint you, that your papers were ſeized in conſequence of the heavy charge brought againſt you, for being the author of an infamous and ſeditious libel, tending to inflame the minds, and alienate the affections of the people from his Majeſty, and excite them to traiterous inſurrections againſt the government; for which libel, notwithſtanding your diſcharge from your commitment to the Tower, his Majeſty has ordered you to be proſecuted by his attorney-general.

We are at a loſs to gueſs what you mean by ſtolen goods; but ſuch of your papers as do not lead to a proof of your guilt, ſhall be reſtored to you; ſuch as are neceſſary for that purpoſe, it was our duty to deliver to thoſe whoſe office it was to collect the evidence, and manage the proſecution againſt you.

We are, Your humble ſervants,
Directed to EGREMONT,
Mr. Wilkes. DUNK HALIFAX.

My Lords, Great George-ſtreet, May 9, 1763.

LITTLE did I expect, when I was requiring from your Lordſhips what an Engliſhman has a right to, his property taken from him, and ſaid to be in your Lordſhip's poſſeſſion, that I ſhould have received in anſwer, from perſons in your high ſtation, the expreſſions of indecent and ſcurrilous applied to my legal demand. The reſpect I bear to his Majeſty, whoſe ſervants it ſeems you ſtill are, tho' you ſtand legally convicted of having in me violated, in the higheſt and moſt offenſive manner, the liberties of all the Commons of England, prevents my returning you an anſwer in the ſame Billingſgate language. If I conſidered you only in your private capacities, I ſhould treat you both according to your deſerts; but where is the wonder that men, who have attacked the ſacred liberty of the ſubject, and have iſſued an illegal warrant to ſeize his property, ſhould proceed to ſuch libellous expreſſions? You ſay, that ſuch of my papers ſhall be reſtored to me, as do not lead to a proof of my guilt. I owe this to your apprehenſion of an action, not to your love of juſtice; and in that light, if I can believe your Lordſhips aſſurances, the whole will be returned to me. I fear neither your proſecution nor your perſecution; and I will aſſert the ſecurity of my own houſe, the liberty of my perſon, and every right of the people, not ſo much for my own ſake, as for the ſake of every one of my Engliſh fellow-ſubjects.

I am, my Lords,
Your humble Servant,
Directed, To the Earls of JOHN WILKES.
Egremont and Halifax, his Majeſty's principal Secretaries of State.

May 13. We can aſſure the public that the report of Lord G---ge S-------'s return to employment, either civil or military, is entirely without foundation.

On Saturday the Earl Temple was diſmiſſed from the King's ſervice, as Lieutenant and Cuſtos Rotulorum of the county of Buckingham.

May 14. An information in the King's Bench, has paſſed againſt Mr. Wilkes, for the North Briton, No. 45, and we hear that it makes thirty ſheets: It is ſaid it will be tried at Guildhall in December next.

Mr. Wilkes has proſecuted the two Secretaries of State, and laid his damages againſt each at Fifty Thouſand Pounds; and againſt the nine perſons who ſeized his papers and effects, at Twenty Thouſand Pounds.

Two general Congreſſes are to be held in America the enſuing Fall, of the Governors of the Northern Colonies at Albany, and of the Southern at Auguſta, and the Chiefs of the ſeveral Nations or Tribes of Indians; whence it is hoped every Thing will be ſettled with thoſe People, to the entire Satisfaction, and for the future Security of both Parties.

His Excellency Governor Boone, we hear, has propoſed the 15th of September next for the Congreſs at Auguſta; and expects 5000l. Sterling from England, in Preſents for the Indians, to be continued annually, which it is wiſhed may anſwer the End propoſed.

WILLIAMSBURGH, June 17.

Laſt Monday evening was committed to the publick gaol in this city John Stanley, for forgery of the following bills, viz. Five Pound bills, dated in 1760, are all low numbers, none exceeding No. 170; and in the word quartam, in the Virginia coat of arms, the letter M is turned wrong ſide upwards. Ten pound bills, dated June 8, 1757, by holding them up to the light, the words Two Pounds may be diſcerned to have been eraſed, and Ten Pounds put inſtead of them. Twenty ſhilling bills, of many different dates, are made out of ten ſhilling bills, in the ſame manner.

This day was executed at York, purſuant to his ſentence, the negroe boy who lately made an attempt to poiſon a family in this city; which, it is hoped, will be a warning to others.

The Pitt Packet, Captain Goddard, is arrived at Falmouth with the Mail, in 23 Days,

From Albany we are told, That on the 22d ult. the 17th Regiment, with Major Rogers, and Part of the Rangers, marched to reinforce the upper Poſts, and that every Thing there wore the Appearance of War again.

PHILADELPHIA, July 7.

On Monday laſt the GENERAL ASSEMBLY of this Province met here.

The next Day arrived an Expreſs from Pittſburgh, by whom we have the following Advices, viz.

Extract of a Letter from Fort Pitt, June 26.

" Since my laſt the Shawaneſe, Delawares and Mingoes, have frequently appeared in ſmall Parties, and have taken one Scalp, ſhot and ſtole our Horſes, and ſome Cows, and came and fired on the Fort. After doing this, they ſent in to hold a Treaty, and Mr. M'Gee was hardy enough to go out to them, but within Muſket-ſhot of the Fort.-----They endeavoured to perſuade us to leave the Place, and ſaid, it was impoſſible to count the Numbers of Indians that were coming againſt us, and that we ſhould all be deſtroyed in two Days, &c. But the Commanding Officer let them know, that a large Army was ſent round the Lakes to their Towns, in order to cut all off; upon which they deſired to ſtand neuter, and brighten the Chain of Friendſhip.-----Enſign Price, Commander of Le Beuf, came in here To-day, with Half his Garriſon, ſix in Number; he kept Poſſeſſion of his wretched Poſt, till the Savages ſet it on Fire with their Arrows, when he found Means to ſlip out, and travelled here in ſix Days, without Proviſion, having left the reſt of his poor People behind, who were ſo far exhauſted, that it was impoſſible for them to come on-----Venango was deſtroyed before he came there, and every Soul periſhed------Juſt now came in a Soldier from Preſque Iſle, who affirms that the Place was attacked, and had been defended for two Days, when the Indians undermined the Block-houſe, on which the Garriſon capitulated, with Liberty to come here; but the Indians fell upon them, and, as he ſuppoſes, maſſacred them all------We credit his Account, as we have had former Examples of their Inhumanity------The laſt Accounts of Detroit are, that the Garriſon makes a noble Defence------The Indians put in Practice the following Piece of Treachery there; they propoſed a Treaty, and ſent in two of their Chiefs----Our People ſent out two Officers to them; on which they came in great Numbers, deſiring Admittance, but were refuſed-----they then fired on the Guards, and our People returned the Compliment, and killed Forty of them on the Spot."

Extract of a Letter from Fort Bedford, June 29, 1763.

" Laſt Night a young Man, who went out in Purſuit of a Horſe, but a few Paces from him, was taken in View of the Garriſon.---A Party went out in Search of him next Morning, and found the Place where the Indians lurked, in Sight of the Fort.

" 30th. This Morning a Party of the Enemy attacked fifteen Perſons, who were mowing in Mr. Croghan's Field, within a Mile of the Garriſon; and News is brought in of two Men being killed---Eight o'Clock. Two Men are brought in, alive, tomahawked and ſcalped more than Half the Head over---Our Parade juſt now preſents a Scene of bloody and ſavage Cruelty; three Men, two of which are in the Bloom of Life, the other an old Man, lying ſcalped (two of them ſtill alive) thereon: Any thing feigned in the moſt fabulous Romance, cannot parallel the horrid Sight now before me; the Gaſhes the poor People bear, are moſt terrifying---Ten o'Clock. They are juſt expired---One of them, after being tomahawked and ſcalped, ran a little Way, and got on a Loft in Mr. Croghan's Houſe, where he lay till found by a Party of the Garriſon."

CARLISLE, July 3.

The following is an Extract of a Letter from Fort Pitt, dated June 26,

" Every Day we ſee more or leſs of the Indians------We have had two Men killed by their own Folly, in leaving the Party contrary to Orders; one killed by Accident, taking down his Gun on an Alarm; and one wounded in the Fort, by a Shot from the oppoſite Side of the Ohio-----The Enemy have killed ſome Cattle, and driven off all our Horſes------A Party of Delawares appeared in Sight of the Fort, three of which came down, and deſired to ſpeak with Mr. M'Gee, who went out to them; when they let him know, that there was a great Body of Indians, of different Nations, ready to attack us, but that they had prevailed with them not to do it, till they had ſpoke to us, and deſired we would go off------The Commanding Officer let them know, that he had Men, Ammunition and Proviſion enough, to defend the Place againſt all the Indians in the Woods; and that Troops were marching to attack them in their Towns; upon which they altered their Tone, and ſaid, Their Nation would hold faſt the Chain of Friendſhip.

" They then told us that our ſmall Poſts were cut off; that Venango was taken, and Mr. Gordon, the Officer that commanded there, made Priſoner, but put to the Torture every Night till he died.

" This Morning Enſign Price, of the Royal Americans, with Part of his Garriſon, arrived here, being ſeparated from the reſt in the Night---The Enemy attacked his Poſt, and ſet it on Fire, and while they watched the Door of the Houſe, he got out on the other Side, and the Indians continued firing a long Time afterwards, imagining that the Garriſon was in it, and that they were conſumed with the Houſe---He touched at Venango, found the Fort burnt to the Ground, and ſaw one of our Expreſſes lying killed on the Road.

" Mr. Price received an Account from Mr. Chriſtie, who commanded at Preſque Iſle, that the Brig from Detroit, had paſſed by there, on her Way to Niagara for Proviſions; that the French did not fight for us; that the Sloop lay oppoſite one Side of the Town, to cover it; that Captain Campbell, and Mr. M'Dougall were ſent out to the Indians, on their approaching the Garriſon, to know what they wanted, but that the Indians had firſt given two of their Chiefs as Hoſtages for their ſafe Return: That the Indians then attempted to force the Gate; upon which Major Gladwin ordered the Troops to fire, and killed Forty of them: That the Enemy had been about the Fort for three Weeks, when the Brig left it: That they were 1500 ſtrong: That they attacked the Brig coming down Detroit River, wounded the Maſter, and lodged a great many Shot in the Veſſel: And that Sir Robert Davers, and Captain Robeſon, with two others, were killed, while they were ſounding the Lake.

" Mr. Price is afraid that Preſque Iſle is taken, as the Indians that attacked his Poſt came from there, or that Way. By the laſt Accounts, the Indians will be all here in a Day or two, to make an Attack on this Place; if they are not afraid, and come on boldly, they will be well drubbed.----I have not had my Cloaths off ſince the firſt Alarm.

" Ligonier was attacked the 22d by the Savages, for a Day and Night, but were beat off; this we had from an Indian.----We killed one of the Scoundrels from the Fort, who had truſted himſelf a little too near.

" Four o'Clock in the Afternoon. Juſt now came in one of the Soldiers from Preſque Iſle, who ſays, Mr. Chriſtie fought two Days; that the Enemy Fifty times ſet Fire to the Block-houſe, but that they as often put it out: That they then undermined the Houſe, and was ready to blow it up, when they offered Mr. Chriſtie Terms, who accepted them, viz. That he, and his Garriſon, was to be conducted to this Place.---The Soldier alſo ſays, he ſuſpected they intended to put them all to Death; and that on hearing a Woman ſcream out, he ſuppoſed they were murdering her; upon which he and another Soldier came immediately off, but knows nothing of the reſt: That the Veſſel from Niagara was in Sight, but believes ſhe had no Proviſions, as the Indians told them they had cut off Little Niagara, and deſtroyed 800 Barrels: And that he thinks, by what he ſaw, Venango had capitulated."

From Cumberland County our Accounts, in general, are moſt melancholy; the poor Back Inhabitants coming continually into Carliſle from their Places, having hardly any thing with them but their Children----We have not as yet heard of any Murders in that County; but Indians have been ſeen in it, ſuppoſed to be reconnoitring, and viewing the Situation of the diſtreſſed People there.

In a Letter from Fort Auguſta, dated June 30, it is ſaid, that a Perſon was arrived from the Weſt Branch of Suſquehannah, who informed, " That all the Indians there were moving off; that none of them might be expected at that Fort again in a friendly Manner; and that he was afraid to return amongſt them."----The Writer of the above ſays, from the beſt Information he could get, a general War with the Indians was like to enſue.

In ASSEMBLY, July 6, 1763, A. M.

THE Houſe reſumed the Conſideration of the Governor's Meſſage, which, with the ſeveral Letters of Intelligence attending it, was again read, and after ſome Time ſpent therein,

RESOLVED,

That it be recommended to the Governor and Provincial Commiſſioners, to take into the immediate Pay of this Province any Number of the Back Inhabitants, and others, not exceeding Seven Hundred Men, excluſive of thoſe already in the Service of the Government, to be divided, ſtationed and employed in protecting the Frontier Inhabitants within the purchaſed Parts of the ſaid Province, during the Time of Harveſt, or until the next Meeting of this Houſe.

RESOLVED,

That if the Money now remaining in the public Treaſury ſhould prove inſufficient to defray the Expence of raiſing the aforeſaid Number of Men, this Houſe will, with the Aſſent of the Governor, ſupply the Deficiency at their next Meeting.

I THINK it neceſſary to inform the Public of a certain Cure for the Bite of Mad Dogs, if taken according to proper Directions. They muſt apply for Cure immediately after they are Bit, or elſe they will be in Danger. I advertiſed this in the Year 1753, but as there has been lately great Damage done by Mad Creatures, this is a Cure that has been experienced in former Generations, for above One Hundred Years in England, and never known to fail. Many Hundreds in England and America have had Experience of this Cure, when able Phyſicians in England have tried their Skill, and failed. For further Particulars apply to DANIEL GOODMAN, in Arch-ſtreet, Philadelphia. July 9, 1763. †

LONDON.

COPY of Mr. WILKES's Commitment.

Charles Earl of Egremont, and George Dunk Earl of Halifax, Lords of his Majeſty's moſt Hon. Privy Council, and Principal Secretaries of State.

THESE are, in his Majeſty's Name, to authorize and require you, to receive into your Cuſtody, the Body of John Wilkes, Eſq; herewith ſent you, for being the Author and Publiſher of a moſt infamous and ſeditious Libel, intituled, the North Briton, Number 45; tending to inflame the Minds, and alienate the Affections of the People from his Majeſty, and to excite them to traiterous Inſurrections againſt the Government. And to keep him ſafe and cloſe, until he ſhall be delivered by a due Courſe of Law; and for ſo doing this ſhall be your Warrant. Given at St.

James's, the 30th Day of April, 1763, in the third Year of his Majeſty's Reign.

Signed

DUNK HALIFAX. L. S.

London, May 5. A greater Number of Noblemens Coaches went through the City Yeſterday, towards the Eaſt-end of the Town, to viſit a Gentleman in the Tower, than was ever known on the like Occaſion.

It is aſſerted in a printed Sheet of Folio (which was this Day diſtributed at the Royal Exchange, and other Parts of the City) among other Articles, that the Council, Solicitor, and Friends, of John Wilkes, Eſq; now confined in the Tower for writing the North Briton, have been denied Admittance to him; as alſo a great Number of Nobility and Gentry.

There appeared upon the Table of Major Ransford, in the Tower, a written Order for him to take down the Names of all Perſons applying for Admittance to Colonel Wilkes.

Mr. Wilkes was this Morning removed from the Command of the Buckinghamſhire Militia, in Conſequence of his Majeſty's Pleaſure ſignified to Earl Temple, Lord Lieutenant of that County.

Mr. Kearſly, the Publiſher of the North Briton, was on Friday laſt near two Hours before the Lords Halifax and Egremont, under Examination, during the Courſe of which he behaved with great Candour, and acquitted himſelf in ſuch a Manner, as reflected the higheſt Honour on his Employers. He then requeſted the Diſcharge of ſome of his Family, which their Lordſhips granted.

May 6. General Fink, the Pruſſian General, who was made Priſoner at Maxen, in Nov. 1759, with his whole Army, conſiſting of about 15,000 Men, is put under Arreſt at Berlin, and is to be tried at a Court Martial.

May 7. We hear that the King of Portugal has made a Preſent to Count de Lippe of a compleat Sett of Artillery Cannon, all made of ſolid Gold, and curiouſly ornamented, as a Gratuity for his Bravery in defending that Country againſt the Spaniards.

On Tueſday laſt Mr. Wilkes, being removed on a Habeas Corpus to the Court of Common Pleas, Weſtminſter Hall, to anſwer to the Charge againſt him, ſpoke to the Court as follows.

The Speech of JOHN WILKES, Eſq; now a Priſoner in the Tower, on Account of high Treaſon, when brought up to the Court of Common Pleas, Tueſday May 3, 1763, before the Right Hon. Sir Charles Pratt, Lord Chief Juſtice, and the reſt of the Judges of the Court.

My LORD,

I AM happy to appear before your Lordſhip and this Court, where Liberty is ſo ſure of finding Protection and Support; and where the Law, the Principal and End of which is the Preſervation of Liberty, is ſo perfectly underſtood.

Liberty, my Lord, has been the governing Principle of every Action of my Life; and, actuated by it, I have always endeavoured to ſerve my gracious Sovereign and his Family, knowing his Government to be founded on it. But as it has been his Misfortune to have employed Miniſters, who have endeavoured to caſt the Odium and Contempt, ariſing from their own tyrannous and corrupt Meaſures, on the ſacred Perſon of their Sovereign and Benefactor; ſo mine has been the daring Taſk, to reſcue the Royal Perſon from ill-placed Imputations, and fix them on the Miniſters, who alone ought to bear the Blame, nay, the Puniſhment, due to their unconſtitutional Proceedings.

For this Proof of my Zeal, and Affection to my Sovereign, I have been impriſoned, ſent to the Tower, and treated with a Rigour YET unpractiſed, even on Scotch Rebels.

But however theſe Miniſters may now ſtrive to deſtroy me; whatever Perſecutions they are now meditating againſt me; yet to the World I ſhall proclaim, that Offers of the moſt advantageous and lucrative Kind have been made to ſeduce me to their Party, and no Means left untried to win me to their Connection: Now, as their Attempts to corrupt me haved failed, they aim at intimidating me by Proſecution; but as it hath pleaſed God to give me Virtue to reſiſt their Bribes, ſo I doubt not but he will give me Spirit to ſurmount their Threats, in a Manner becoming an Engliſhman; who would ſuffer the ſevereſt Trials, rather than aſſociate themſelves with Men who are Enemies to the Liberty of this Country. Their Bribes I rejected; their Menaces I defy; and I think this the moſt fortunate Moment of my Life, when I appear before your Lordſhip, and this Court, where Innocence is ſure of Protection, and Liberty can never want her Friends and Guardians."

Friday, May 6. This Morning John Wilkes, Eſq; lately committed cloſe Priſoner to the Tower of London, by a Warrant of Commitment from the Secretaries of State, was brought up to the Bar of the Court of Common Pleas, where (as ſoon as the Court was ſeated) he made the following Speech.

My LORD,

FAR be it from me to regret that I have paſſed ſo many more Days in Captivity, as it will have afforded you an Opportunity of doing, upon mature Reflection, and repeated Examination, the more ſignal Juſtice to my Country. The Liberty of all Peers and Gentlemen, and what touches me more ſenſibly, that of all the middling and inferior Claſſes of People, who ſtand moſt in Need of Protection, is in my Caſe this Day to be finally decided upon: A Queſtion of ſuch Importance as to determine at once whether Engliſh Liberty be a Reality or a Shadow. Your own freeborn Hearts will feel with Indignation and Compaſſion all that Load of Oppreſſion under which I have ſo long laboured. Cloſe Impriſonment, the Effect of premeditated Malice; all Acceſs for more than two Days denied to me; my Houſe ranſacked and plundered; my moſt private and ſecret Concerns divulged; every vile and malignant Inſinuation, even of High Treaſon itſelf, no leſs induſtriouſly than falſly circulated, by my cruel and implacable Enemies, together with all the various Inſolence of Office, form but a Part of my unexampled ill Treatment. Such inhuman Principles of Star-chamber Tyranny, will, I truſt, by this Court, upon this ſolemn Occaſion, be finally extirpated, and henceforth every innocent Man, however poor and unſupported, may hope to ſleep in Peace and Security in his own Houſe, unviolated by King's Meſſengers, and the arbitrary Mandates of an overbearing Secretary of State.

I will no longer delay your Juſtice. The Nation is impatient to hear, nor can be ſafe and happy, till that is obtained. If the ſame Perſecution is after all to carry me before another Court, I hope I ſhall find that the genuine Spirit of Magna Charta, that glorious Inheritance, that diſtinguiſhing Characteriſtick of Engliſhmen, is as religiouſly revered there, as I know it is here, by the great Perſonage before whom I have now the Happineſs to ſtand; and (as in the ever memorable Caſe of the impriſoned Biſhops) that an independent Jury of free-born Engliſhmen, will perſiſt to determine my Fate as in Conſcience bound, upon conſtitutional Principles, by a Verdict of Guilty or not Guilty. I aſk no more at the Hands of my Countrymen.

After which the Court proceeded to their Opinion: And Mr. Wilkes was ordered to be diſcharged. He then addreſſed himſelf to the Court in the Words following.

My LORD,

GREAT as my Joy muſt naturally be, at the Deciſion which this Court, with a true Spirit of Liberty, has been pleaſed to make concerning the unwarrantable Seizure of my Perſon, and all other conſequential Grievances, allow me to aſſure you, that I feel it far leſs ſenſibly on my own Account, than I do for the Public. The Sufferings of an Individual are a trifling Object, when compared with the whole, and I ſhould bluſh to feel for myſelf, in Compariſon with Conſiderations of a Nature ſo tranſcendently ſuperior.

I will not trouble you with my poor Thanks.---Thanks are due to you from the whole Engliſh Nation, and from all the Subjects of the Engliſh Crown. They will be paid you, together with every Teſtimony of Zeal and Affection to the learned * Serjeant, who has ſo ably and ſo conſtitutionally pleaded my Cauſe, and in mine (with Pleaſure I ſay it) the Cauſe of Liberty. Every Teſtimony of my Gratitude is juſtly due to you, and I take Leave of this Court with a Veneration and Reſpect, which no Time can obliterate, nor can the moſt grateful Heart ſufficiently expreſs."

Though Mr. Wilkes be diſcharged, on Account of his being a Member of Parliament, from his Impriſonment in the Tower; yet he is not freed from the Accuſation againſt him. The Point before the Court of Common Pleas was, not the Proof of his Guilt, but, the Nature of his Offence, and whether it deprived him of his Privileges as a Member of Parliament, which extend to all Caſes except Treaſon, Felony, and Breach of the Peace. The Warrant of the Commitment accuſes him not of High Treaſon, but of writing and publiſhing a Libel. But a Libel in the Senſe of the Law, is only a high Miſdemeanor (though in arbitrary Reigns it has been held to be more) and at moſt has a Tendency to diſturb the Peace.

Mr. Wilkes, however, had been ſcarcely diſcharged, when a Gentleman of Eminence in the Law ſtood up, and told my Lord Chief Juſtice, that he had juſt received a Note from the Attorney and Solicitor General, to intreat his Lordſhip would not give Mr. Wilkes Leave to depart 'till their coming, which would be inſtant, as they had ſomething to offer againſt his Plea of Privilege. But this Motion was laughed at by the whole Court, as the Queſtion was decided, and Mr. Wilkes already diſcharged.

We are informed that Mr. Wilkes's Franks have been charged, in Violation of the Privilege of Parliament.

Extract of a Letter from Guilford, May 6.

"This Morning on the Receipt of the agreeable News of John Wilkes, Eſq; being diſcharged from his Confinement in the Tower, the Bells of this Town, famous for its loyal and conſtitutional Principles, rang a Peal to Liberty. An univerſal Satisfaction and Joy appeared in the Countenances of the Inhabitants, who value themſelves on their diſtinguiſhed Loyalty to the preſent Royal Family, their Deteſtation of Jacobitiſm, and Regard to the true Intereſt of their Country, and conſequently for the Liberty of the Preſs. At Night the Gentlemen of the Place aſſembled, and had an elegant Entertaiment at their own Coſts, at which the Healths of the Royal Family and Minority Club, John Wilkes, Eſq; &c. &c. were ſeverally drank, with Confuſion to all Miniſters, who adviſe the Extenſion of the Exciſe Laws, and everlaſting Honour to ſuch Judges as make Equity and Britiſh Principles the Rule of their Deciſions."

We hear that Mr. Wilkes, the Day after he mas diſmiſt from being Col. of the Buckinghamſhire Militia, ſent 20 Guineas, to be divided among the private Men to drink his Majeſty's Health.

We hear, that Yeſterday the Members for the Borough of Stockbridge waited on Mr. Serjeant Glynn with the Freedom of that Corporation. It was incloſed in a Gold Box, on one Side of which is repreſented Mr. Wilkes ſtruggling for Liberty, under the emblematical Figure of a beautiful Woman.

At an elegant Entertainment given by the Mayor, &c. of Norwich on the Thankſgiving Day, after the Healths of the King, Queen, and Royal Family, the following Toaſts were given.---May the King late, very late, finiſh his Reign, with as much Glory as he began it.---May Abilities and Integrity preſide in his Miniſtry.---May Loyalty and Unanimity be diffuſed among his People.---May the national Debt be reduced, by a few Years Peace, as low as the Finances of France were by the War. May Peace be preſerved in Europe as long as Liberty remains in Britain.---If ever War again commences, may the Britiſh Forces take Example from the Year Sixty-two.---To the 39 Peers who voted againſt, and to thoſe Members of the Houſe of Commons who oppoſed, the late Exciſe Bill.

We hear from Ayleſbury in Buckinghamſhire, that when the News of Mr. Wilkes's being diſcharged from the Tower arrived there, the Inhabitants made the greateſt Rejoicings on the Occaſion. At Night there were Illuminations, and ſeveral Barrels of Beer were diſtributed among the Populace.

St. James's, May 9. The King has been pleaſed to conſtitute and appoint the Right Hon. the Lord Le Diſpenſer, to be Lord Lieutenant and Cuſtos Rotulorum of the County of Buckingham, in the Room of the Earl Temple.

May 14. An Earthquake lately happened at Bengal; two Settlements near that Place were terribly ſhaken; the Earth opened in many Places, where the Waters guſhed out, and between 4 and 500 Souls were ſwallowed up.

It is reported that the firſt Diviſion of the King of Pruſſia's Army is arrived on the Frontiers of Poland, and that the ſecond Diviſion, with the King at their Head, is following them, ſuppoſed from an Invitation of the Poliſh Nobility.

Letters from Paris of the firſt of May adviſe, that by their laſt Accounts from the Port of Breſt, the Ship Tonant was ſoon to ſail for Toulon; and that on the 27th paſt, M. Beauſſier ſailed from Breſt for the Weſt Indies with the four following Ships of the Line, viz. the Royal Louis of 112 Guns, the Minotaur of 74, the Sceptre of 74, and the Actif of 64; and the five following Frigates, viz. Thetis, Hirondelle, Etoile, Barbue, and Petit Mars.

By ſome Engliſh Sailors which carried over the Comet Frigate to Breſt, and which was bought on the French King's Account, we learn, that they have about twenty Sail of the Line in that Harbour, beſides Frigates. There is not much Work going on in the King's Yard as yet.

The following Ships, now at Portſmouth, are ordered to be made fit for Sea with all Expedition, viz. Tamar, Lark, and Aldborough.

A Patent has paſſed the Seals in Behalf of Perry Charles Wyndham, Eſq; Son of the Earl of Egremont, for the Place in Reverſion of Secretary of Barbados, and likewiſe Regiſter of Jamaica.

A Patent has likewiſe paſſed the Seals for a Reverſionary Grant to Charles William Wyndham, Eſq; another Son of the Earl of Egremont, of the Place of Secretary of his Majeſty's Iſland of Jamaica.

Yeſterday at a Meeting of a very great Number of the moſt reſpectable Merchants and Traders of the City of London, at the King's Arms in Cornhill, it was unanimouſly reſolved to preſent an humble Addreſs to his Majeſty on the Peace, to be delivered by the whole Body; and the Chairman, Edmund Boehm, Eſq; was deſired to wait on the proper Miniſter, to know his Majeſty's Pleaſure, when he would be attended with the ſame. The Addreſs remains at the abovementioned Tavern.

A Motion was made by one of the principal Merchants, that notwithſtanding the Court was in Mourning, it would be moſt proper to wait on his Majeſty in coloured Cloaths.

Orders are ſent to the Governor of Goree, that on the Arrival of the French to take Poſſeſſion of that Place, purſuant to the late Treaty, that he, with the Garriſon, do retire to Senegal, and there remain till Shipping arrives from England to convoy them home.

Yeſterday arrived a Mail from Liſbon, brought by the King George Packet in 12 Days to Falmouth. Juſt as ſhe got under Sail, a Portugueze Man of War of 70 Guns, in the Harbour, by ſome Accident took Fire, and was conſumed.

Tueſday laſt a Motion was made in the Court of Aldermen by Sir Charles Aſgill, Bart. for an Addreſs to his Majeſty, on the preſent Peace, which was carried in the Affirmative; and accordingly this Day the nine following Aldermen, viz. Alſop, Dickinſon, Rawlinſon, Glyn, Fludyer, Bankes, Goſling, Chaloner, and Blunt, with Sir Charles in the State Coach at their Head, as Locum Tenens for the Lord Mayor, who is gone into the Country, went up to his Majeſty with the ſaid Addreſs. As they paſſed through Fleet-ſtreet, the Bells of St. Brides's rang a Dumb-Peal; and, during the Proceſſion, they were more than once affronted by the Populace, who teſtified their Diſapprobation of their going up, by hiſſing them as they paſſed along.

BRIDGE-TOWN, in Barbados, June 2.

Laſt Monday Afternoon three Frenchmen, under pretence of going on board a Veſſel that was to ſail that Evening, prevailed on two Negroes to take them off; but as ſoon as they got over the Bar, one of them diſplaced the Boy at the Helm, and bore away to Leeward: On this, one of the Negroes jumped over-board, ſwam on Shore, and ſoon alarmed the Wharff: They were immediately purſued, and by the Vigilance of a white Man in a Speight's-Town Boat, belonging to Mr. Ford, were brought back, and are now under Confinement in our Goal. They were fired at as they paſſed the Fort, but proceeded with an undaunted Reſolution till they were overtaken.

CHARLES-TOWN (in SOUTH-CAROLINA) June 14.

From Fort Prince George, Keehowee, we are informed of the Great Warrior's Return to the Nation, with ſome Frenchmen, ſome Ammunition, and ſome Brandy: That the Northern Indians have been troubleſome to the Cherokees, about the Upper Towns, Valley, and Middle Settlements, and have killed and ſcalped eight of them, two of which were Sons of Attakulla-Kulla; whereupon he was gone out with a Party of 60 Men to take Satisfaction; and that, being convinced no Trade would be ſent from hence to the Over-hills, he intends, upon his Return, to make Application to Governor Fauquier for a Trade from Virginia: And that about 30 Creeks have lately been at Toogoulou, laying in wait for ſome Auguſta Traders to the Over-hills, from one of whom (John Walker) they took four Keggs of Rum, and ſome other Things, as he was going up; and from another that was returning, his Horſes and Leather; the laſt they gave a pretty ſevere Correction to. The Reaſon they give for this Conduct is, that thoſe traders ſteal whole Droves of Horſes from them.

Extract of a Letter from the Havanna, May 13.

"The King's ſhips and prizes are all fitted out and ready for the ſea---The Count de Aranga is appointed Governor of Cuba, and was to ſail from Cadiz the beginning of April.---Admiral Kepple, hourly expected from Jamaica, it is ſaid, will proceed for England, and not wait for the garriſon, the deſtination whereof is not known here. A few days ago one of the murderers of Meſſ. Boyd and Read of Philadelphia, was tried by a court-martial, and ſentenced to be hanged, his head cut off, and put on the moſt conſpicuous place. viz. the Land port gate, and his body caſt into the ſea, without benefit of clergy, which ſentence was approved of by the General, and put in execution two days afterwards.----Quarter-maſter Fraſer, formerly a ſerjeant of the Royal, and the firſt man that entered the Moro at the ſtorm, was likewiſe hanged ſome days ago for killing a ſoldier whom he ſuſpected of being too free with his wife."

We hear from ſeveral Parts of the Province, that the Ruſt has got into the Wheat, occaſioned by the many heavy Rains that have lately fallen, which have been greater and frequenter than can be remembered at this Seaſon of the Year.

NEW-PORT, in Rhode-Iſland, June 27.

A Conference with the Deputies of the Six Nations of Indians, in the Council Chamber at Hartford, in the Colony of Connecticut, on the 28th Day of May laſt.

Preſent, the Governor, Council and Aſſembly, of ſaid Colony. Toquerole, a Mohawk; Saquayanquaraghta, and Toguaſcantha, Onondagoes; Sogheres, and Oghſegwarona, Cayugas; all Deputies from the Six Nations.

THE Deputies after being taken by the Hand and bid welcome into the Government, ſeated themſelves; then Saquayanquaraghta aroſe and delivered a Speech, which from the Interpeter was taken as followeth, viz.

Brothers, We were ſent hither by the Chiefs of all the Six Nations, and it has pleaſed God that we are arrived ſafe at this Place, to ſee you. Brothers, We are Deputies from all the Chiefs, and we underſtand that you are not ſound within, and we give this to clear your Eyes, that you may ſee, and open your Ears, that you may hear, and cleanſe your Hearts, that you may entertain cordially what we ſhall ſpeak to you. A Belt of Wampum from the Deputy of the Onondagas.

Return'd the Compliment to them, that they would open their Eyes, and cleanſe their Throats, that they may ſpeak freely.

Brothers, We have no Writing of it, but we have a Tradition that God, the Maker of all things, hath given to the Six Nations our large Country to dwell and ſubſiſt in, and made them a ſtrong People; and our Nations have of old appointed a Fire Place at Onondago, by that Means united together, and ſo became a ſtrong and powerful Confederacy; afterwards they ſaw at Albany a white People, and found Means to enter into a Conference with them, and made a Silver Chain, a ſtrong Chain of Friendſhip, which they and we have from Time to Time brightened and kept clean, and at this firſt Interview liked you ſo well, that we gave you room for you to ſettle upon our Land, and you are ſince become very numerous and proſperous, for which we are very glad, and rejoice: And Brothers, we have been very helpful, and aſſiſted one another againſt our Enemies, and by the help of God we have gained Superiority over them: And Brothers, you will excuſe us; we have no Records of former Proceedings, but hint at ſuch Things as were done formerly by our Forefathers, and have nothing further to offer on this Head.

Now we are come to another Head.

Brothers, We have heard grievous News this Winter, that you were about to come with Three Hundred Families to ſettle on our Lands, which was very aſtoniſhing to us, and that you deſigned to build Forts and ſtrong Places on our Lands, and for that Reaſon our Sachems conſidered upon it, and have ſent us down to this Place; by that Means we are come down here to acquaint you with what News we hear, that you have got a deſign to Settle on the Saſquehannah River, and claim the Land to the Weſt-Seas; and we have heretofore given away Land to white People, but of this Sale of this Land the Six Nations know nothing that they have ever given it away or ſold it to any; and what little we have left we intend to keep ourſelves; we know not of any ſuch Sale, and if any ſuch Thing hath been, it muſt have been done in a ſeparate Manner, and not in a general Meeting or Council of the Six Nations, as hath been the uſual Manner of their giving or ſelling their Lands.

Brothers, Our Cuſtom is not to keep any Thing ſecret, we have heard that one Lydias, at Albany, has endeavoured to purchaſe ſome Lands at Saſquehannah, and it is not the Manner of the Six Nations to keep any Thing in the reſerve, he was up among the Nations to obtain it; but we have heard that he has ſince got a Deed from the Indians, which he obtained from them ſingly, or one by one, and that from Stragglers and ſuch as we know nothing of. We have often ſold Lands to the white People, but then it was done by the Conſent of the whole, in ſome general Meeting, and this is Land which we have reſerved for ourſelves, as we have but little left, and we are ſurpriſed at ſuch a Meaſure being taken to obtain a Deed without our Knowledge or Conſent.

We have been told that Lydias has reported that he paid a great deal of Money for this Land which we know nothing of, and this is the hunting Ground which we depend upon for our Support, and are not willing by any Means to part with it. [Then the ſpeaker preſents a bread Belt which he holds in his Hand.] Brothers, we would have you take this Matter into ſerious Conſideration; we here preſent you with the Emblem of the Six Caſtles belonging to our Nations, and through it the Road or Path through which we come to ſtrengthen our Covenant Chain. Brothers, ſeriouſly take it into Conſideration, and think how you would like it to have Lands taken from you in an unfair and injurious Manner. You are a praying People, better acquainted with Books and Learning than we, and muſt needs know better what is right; to have your Lands as we may ſay ſtolen from you, ſurely you could not like it to be treated in ſuch a Manner, to have your Lands taken from you that you depend upon for your Support. Brothers, Take it ſeriouſly into your Conſideration, how ſtrong our Union uſed to be formerly, when we were, as it were, united under one Head, and were one Body and Blood, and happily united in our Affections. Brothers, As I have told you before, that we have been ſent here by our Chiefs, to let you know what we have heard about your Deſign of entering on our Lands; and we deliver in this Belt to ſhew the Minds of the Confederate Nations, that you do not encroach on our Lands, which we have reſerved, and deſign to keep for our Children to the lateſt Poſterity, and will not part with; they are ſuch as we ſet by, and will not ſell. Brothers, If you proceed to encroach on our Lands we ſhall not be eaſy, but will return home to our Places, and apply ourſelves to the King our Father to obtain Juſtice, and I myſelf will go, and on my going out of the Houſe will return home, and leave you to conſider on it. And now I have ſaid all I have to ſay.

The Governor directed the Interpreter to tell them that he was able to give them a ſatisfactory Anſwer, and deſired they would ſtay till the Beginning of the Week, at which Time they ſhould have an Anſwer.

To which they anſwered, that their Chiefs directed them to make no Delay, but as ſoon as they had made their Speech they were to return; but the Governor deſired they would ſtay for an Anſwer; then they withdrew.

NEW-YORK, July 11.

Next Week will be launched here, a large Sloop, conſtructed in a particular Manner, with a Well in her Bottom, for the better keeping and bringing all Sorts of Fiſh alive to our Market; and going out to fiſh at Sea for Cod, &c. in the Winter. She has been ſet up by a Company of Gentlemen in this City, in order to reduce the Price of Fiſh, and to endeavour to have that Commodity at Market all Seaſons of the Year; a Scheme, which, if attended with Succeſs, will, we hope, reduce the extravagant Price that freſh Meat has been at for ſome Time paſt in our Markets.

PHILADELPHIA, July 14.

July 4, 1763.

WHEREAS I the Subſcriber, did, in December laſt, purchaſe of Mr. Thomas Norris, of Briſtol, a Negroe Wench, for whom I gave my Bill for 50l. payable the firſt of this Inſt. and as ſhe did not ſuit me, I thought myſelf ſufficiently authorized, by my Bill of Sale, to ſell her again, if I thought proper: Therefore being ignorant that ſaid Negroe was liable to any Duty, by being purchaſed, and ſold within the Province of Pennſylvania, offered her to Sale by Auction; and as by Means of Mr. Norris neglecting to enter ſaid Negroe, and pay the Duty, according to Act of Aſſembly, to which he muſt know ſhe was obnoxious, and I did not, the Negroe was forcibly ſeized, and taken from me, by Mr. Thomas Coombe, Collector of the Duties on Negroes.

I beg Leave to appeal to any candid and impartial Perſon, whether I have not a Right to complain of Mr. Norris, for vending to me, as a Property, what by Law neither he nor I had a Right to hold. In order therefore to prevent any Perſon from taking an Aſſignment of ſaid Bill, I do declare I look upon it as null and void, and that I will not pay the ſame, except by Law obliged.

EDWARD BROADFIELD.

The PENNSYLVANIA GAZETTE.

Containing the Freſheſt Advices, Foreign and Domeſtic.

The Anſwer of the Hon. THOMAS FITCH, Eſq; Governor of Connecticut, to the Speech of the Deputies of the Six Nations, inſerted in Number 1803 of this Paper.

At the Council-Chamber in Hartford, May 30, 1763.

Brethren,

WE heartily welcome you to this Place, and are glad to ſee you ſafe arrived, and that you are ſent by your Chiefs to brighten the Covenant Chain made by our Forefathers: You tell us your Chiefs think we are not all ſound within, and give a Belt to clear our Eyes to ſee, open our Ears to hear, and make our Hearts clean, that we may cordially receive what you ſpeak to us.

Brethren, We are ſorry your Chiefs think we are not ſound within; we aſſure you our Eyes are clear, our Ears are open, and we cordially receive you as Friends, and kindly receive your Meſſage. Brethren, we rejoice with you that God has proſpered the great King GEORGE, our common Father, ſo that your and our Enemies are ſubdued, and now we hope we ſhall live in Peace and Friendſhip as long as the Sun and Moon ſhall endure.

We come now to your Meſſage.

Brethren, You tell us the News you have heard that we were about to come with Three Hundred Families to ſettle on the Saſquehannah River, which was very aſtoniſhing to you, and that we deſign to build Forts on your Lands.

Brethren, We aſſure and tell you, this Government has not given any Orders for any ſuch Settlement; we are no Ways concerned in that Matter, only, as Friends to you, have endeavoured to prevent the People from going to ſettle thoſe Lands. We have indeed been told that a Number of particular Perſons, ſome living in Connecticut, ſome in Maſſachuſetts, ſome in New-York, and ſome in other Governments, were about to ſettle on thoſe Lands, but we adviſed them not to proceed in their Attempts, and lately I received Orders from the King, our common Father, commanding me to uſe my Authority and Influence to prevent the People from attempting to ſettle on thoſe Lands, till the Matter ſhould be laid before the King: In Obedience to his Majeſty's Commands, I acquainted the chief Men among them with the King's Orders, and adviſed them to lay aſide the Proſecution of the Settlement for the preſent; and furthermore, I have now the Satisfaction to acquaint you, that I am well informed thoſe People have had a Meeting, and have in Teſtimony as well of his Majeſty's Care, as their ready Submiſſion to, and Acquieſcence in, his Orders, unanimouſly agreed that no Perſon whatever, of their Company, ſhall enter upon, or make any Settlement of any of thoſe Lands, until his Majeſty our common Father's Pleaſure be known in that Matter.

Brethren, Seeing we are your Friends, and agreeable to the King's Orders, have taken ſo much Care to prevent thoſe Settlements which are ſo grievous to you, and have now given you Account that the Attempts are ſtopt, we think you will be fully ſatisfied, and inform our Brothers your Chiefs, and your Nations of this, and reſt eaſy and quiet. We aſſure you of the cordial Friendſhip, and wiſh you a ſafe Journey home, and deſire you to preſent our kind Compliments to the Sachems of the Six Nations. Farewell.

Brethren,

WE have heard with Attention what you have ſaid, and are well pleaſed with the ſame, and we hope you will endeavour to prevent any more People from making Purchaſes of us; and as to thoſe Lands we talked about, we do not at preſent deſign to part with them, but if ever we do, it ſhall be to thoſe Purchaſers of your People before any others, if they deſire it. We are to receive no Preſents on this Occaſion, but as to your Offer to diſcharge our Expences while in this Town, we gratefully accept and acknowledge the ſame, and heartily bid you, Farewell.

ANNAPOLIS, July 14.

We have had repeated Reports, which we wiſh may prove falſe, That Col. Thomas Creſap, with his Family, and Neighbours, are cut off by the Indians: Their Plantations, according to the beſt Information we can get, lie about three Degrees Weſt of Cheſapeak Bay, in Frederick County, in Maryland; and the Colonel was one of the Repreſentatives for his County.

This Morning we received the following very melancholy Letter, which we cannot avoid giving the Public.

Mr. GREEN, Alexandria, July 12, 1763.

I CAME from Loudoun County to this Place laſt Night, and am ſorry to inform you, that I think the People, both on the Frontiers of Virginia and Maryland, are now, or will be ſoon, in the moſt deplorable Situation; my Reaſons for thinking ſo, with all the News I could collect concerning the Back Inhabitants, and Indians, I will now ſend, for the Judgment of yourſelf, and the Public. The following is a true Copy of a Letter ſent from the County-Lieutenant of Frederick, to the Colonel of Loudoun County, which I think is alone ſufficient to alarm the People of this Colony.

"SIR, Wincheſter, July 11, 1763.

"We have received certain Accounts of ſeveral Parties of Indians having appeared in different Parts of Hampſhire and this County, but their Numbers are not yet certain: A great Number of our People have been ſcalped and taken Priſoners in both Counties within theſe two Days: Many have already deſerted their Plantations in this County, and Hampſhire is intirely abandoned, except by ſome who have betaken themſelves to Forts, where they muſt fall a Sacrifice, unleſs ſpeedily relieved. As we are not able to defend ourſelves, and the few remaining in Hampſhire, without Aſſiſtance from the neighbouring Counties, I think neceſſary to call upon you for a Detachment of your Militia, of at leaſt One Hundred and Fifty Men, properly officered, and ſupplied with Arms and Ammunition, and that you march them to this Place immediately. I am Yours, &c.

"JOHN HITE."

"To Col. Francis Lee, or, in his Abſence, to the next Commanding Officer in Loudoun County."

I examined the Expreſs that brought this letter from Wincheſter to Loudoun County, and he informed me, that he was employed as an Expreſs from Fort Cumberland to Wincheſter, which Place he left the 4th Inſtant, and that paſſing from the Fort to Wincheſter, he ſaw lying on the Road a Woman, who had been juſt ſcalped, and was then in the Agonies of Death, with her Brains hanging over her Skull; his Companion made a Propoſal, to knock her on the Head, to put an End to her Agony, but this Expreſs apprehending the Indians were near at Hand, and not thinking it ſafe to loſe any Time, rode off, and left the poor Woman in the Situation they found her. He alſo informed me, that there have been two Indians taken Priſoners within four Miles of Wincheſter, and that they confeſſed, there has been 400 Indians, for a Fortnight paſt, about the South Branch of Patowmack; and that they waited there in Expectation to be joined by four Times that Number. It is very certain that the County of Hampſhire is quite deſerted, and that many of the Inhabitants in Frederick County are in Stockades; it is no leſs certain that the People in Wincheſter are under the ſtrongeſt Apprehenſions of a Viſit from the Indians, and that Capt. Robert Rutherford is gone with a Party of eight Men, to know, if poſſible, the Diſpoſition of the Indians, and their Number. His Return is waited for with the greateſt Impatience, as they are ſenſible of his Activity and Knowledge of the Woods, and expect from him ſome Intelligence.

There has been Indians ſeen on the Blue-Ridge, and Col. Creſap's being cut off, is told with freſh Circumſtances. Thoſe Indians who have appeared on the Ridge, have done no Miſchief, and are ſuppoſed to be a Party ſent from the main Body to reconnoitre the Country, before they fall upon the Back Inhabitants, which they have put off, it is imagined, for a few Days, that they might perpetrate their Intentions upon the People, in the Time of their Harveſt. From the Face of Circumſtances, the Beginning of laſt War was not ſo alarming or affecting. What a ſhocking Conſideration it is, to ſee the Harveſt Fields abandoned, Plantations deſerted, and the poor wretched Inhabitants obliged to fly, or be ſcalped in Surprize! I hope that the Legiſlature and Individuals of this Colony, as well as your Province, will exert themſelves, and do their utmoſt, to relive their Back Inhabitants, and put a Stop, as ſoon as poſſible, to the Inroads of the Indians, a People who make Revenge their darling Paſſion, and who, Experience tells us, are deliberate in their Reſolves, pointed in the Execution of them, and intrepid in whatever they attempt. I am, SIR,

Your moſt humble Servant,

CHARLES DIGGES.

By the Frederick Poſt Rider (juſt come in, as we were committing this to the Preſs) we are informed, That four Men were killed on Saturday laſt by the Indians, as they were gathering in their Wheat, between the Mouth of Conecocheague and the Warm Springs. And the Day before Yeſterday an Indian was ſeen near Stull's Mill, about 25 Miles from Frederick-Town, and purſued, but he got off.

CADIZ, April 25.

THEY write from Gibraltar, that ſome difference has ariſen between the Engliſh and the King of Morocco, and that the Engliſh Conſul in Barbary had precipitately left Tetuan, the place of his uſual reſidence. It is ſaid that the ground of theſe broils, is a complaint made by Admiral Saunders to his Britannic Majeſty, of the little reſpect paid by the Moors to the Engliſh flag, and their refuſing to ſupply Gibraltar with proviſions under double price.

Amſterdam, April 22. The different Colleges of the Admiralty ſeem to be buſy in taking all neceſſary precautions to put our marine in a condition to protect our trade, in caſe, as there is room to fear, we ſhould come to an open rupture with the Algerines.

The College of the Admiralty of Amſterdam have come to a reſolution to ſheath their Ships, bound to the Weſt-Indies, with copper and braſs. It is ſaid that this hint was taken from King James II. of England, who underſtood naval affairs very well. Had the Engliſh taken this method of ſheathing, they would have ſaved thoſe ſhips which, in conſequence of their being eat by the worms, were either loſt, or much damaged, in their return from the Havannah.

Hanover, April 22. All the officers of the light troops that had been diſbanded, enjoy full pay till they are placed in the regiments that ſtand. To ſupport this expence, it is ſaid, that a certain number of private men will be diſcharged out of each regiment of horſe. The troops that remain on foot are five regiments of horſe, of 388 men in each; ſix of dragoons, of 391 men each; fourteen of foot, of 704 men each; 600 men of the train of artillery, and 14 Engineers; ſo that the whole military force of the Electorate amounts to 14,816 men.

Alicant, April 9. On the 25th paſt the trade of this city with England was put upon the ſame footing as before the war; and the peace was proclaimed on the 27th, to the great joy of the inhabitants, and of all people in general. His Britannick Majeſty's ſubjects have enjoyed, at this port, all the good treatment that could be expected, even before the ſigning of the Definitive Treaty.

Vienna, April 16. We hear that Gen. Zaſtrow, who commanded the garriſon of Schweidnitz when Gen. Laudon carried that place by aſſault, and who left this city a few days ago, has received, in his way to Sileſia, his diſmiſſion from his Pruſſian Majeſty; and that all the officers, who ſerved under him on that occaſion, have ſhared the ſame fate.

Hamburgh, April 29. We learn from Berlin, that ſeveral Pruſſian Officers, who were made priſoners by the Auſtrians at Maxen, have been broke, but the Generals Wunſch and Rebentiſch, who propoſed fighting their way through the enemy, preſerve their employments, and the eſteem of their Sovereign.

Venice, April 22. On the 19th Louis Mocenigo, Procurator of St. Mark, was created Doge of this Republick, and next day crowned with the uſual formalities.

Leghorn, April 16. A Genoeſe privateer took out of a neutral veſſel a famous Corſican Sea Captain, and ſent him to Baſtia, where, it is ſaid, he was hanged. In return for which General Paoli made three Genoeſe Gentlemen, who were his priſoners, draw lots, and he on whom the lot fell was put to death.

Aleppo, March 1. The Baſhaw of this city having ſome time ago diſbanded 400 men of his cavalry, theſe fellows, being deſtitute of employment and reſources, ranged about the country, and committed outrages of every kind; and this city was ſo terrified by them, that the inhabitants durſt not venture out of the gates. One of their exploits was in a village at Sphiri, at the entrance of a deſart ſix leagues from this city, where they maſſacred all the men, raviſhed the females, ſet fire to the place, and then went to burn another adjacent village. The Baſhaw being ſenſible that nothing but force could put a ſtop to their proceedings, he ſent a body of troops againſt them, headed by the Kiaya, who was ſeconded by ſeveral Agas. The rioters had been joined by about 400 other banditti, and fenced themſelves in a village within eight leagues of this city. The Kiaya ſurrounded the village; but the mutineers ſallied out, and fell ſo impetuouſly on the Kiaya's troops, that they would certainly have routed them, if a reinforcement of 150 men had not opportunely arrived, who attacked the rebels in flank, and drove them back into the village. The latter having ſpent all their powder and ſhot, were obliged to abandon their poſt, and ran away in diſorder; only 16 of them could be ſeized, whom the Kiaya put to death on the ſpot, and their heads were fixed upon ſtakes before the Baſhaw's houſe. It is ſaid that the rebels have fled into the mountains of the Kurdes; but we are not yet quite eaſy about them, as there is room to fear they will return and ravage the open country.

We have advice from Bagdad, that tranquility is actually reſtored there by the defeat of Solyman, Baſhaw of Karacholan, who had advanced with a body of ten or twelve thouſand men to within three days march of Bagdad. The Baſhaw of that city went out to meet him with a force nearly equal, defeated him, and obliged him to fly to the mountains for ſafety.

Paris, May 6. There arrive daily at Breſt veſſels filled with French priſoners from England, where there ſtill remain above 10,000, who are waiting the return of veſſels to bring them hither.

Altena, May 3. Tueſday arrived here a gang of 70 or 80 recruits, all French deſerters, whom the Danes had enliſted near Francfort; we daily expect many more, who are all to be ſent to Gluſtadt and Peninganberg. Many people cannot comprehend the reaſon why the Daniſh monarch is levying ſo many recruits; but we are aſſured it is only to fill up his regiments, from which no fewer than 5000 deſerted when they were lately encamped, under an apprehenſion of a rupture with Ruſſia.

Madrid, April 26. Purſuant to the definitive treaty of peace, Chaves was reſtored to his moſt faithful Majeſty on the 4th; as was the city of Almeyda, and the other forts, places, &c. taken from Portugal, the 11th inſtant.

Paris, May 9. We have juſt received the diſagreeable news of a fire, which has deſtroyed half the little town of Hirſon, belonging to the Prince of Conde, and ſituated in the Generality of Soiſſons, in the Election of Guiſe. It broke out the 23d paſt, at five in the evening, in the houſe of a bricklayer, and there being a very high wind, the flames, in leſs than half an hour, ſpread from one extremity of the town to the other, and ſet it on fire in ſeven or eight different places. It burnt ſo impetuouſly, that in leſs than two hours it intirely conſumed 300 buildings, with all the furniture, grain, forage, and effects that were in them. In the greateſt part of the houſes it was not poſſible to ſave either the writings of the notaries, or the papers and books of accounts of the officers of the farms, nor even the ready money. Only one child periſhed in the flames. According to the moſt exact eſtimate of the loſs, it amounts to 441,721 livres.

A like diſaſter happened the 1ſt inſt. at the village of Perigny, in the bailiage of Auxonne, where 50 houſes were burnt.

Hague, May 18. We learn from Germany, that when the election of a King of the Romans comes on, the Electors of Brandebourg and Hanover will propoſe the creation of a tenth electorate, in favour of the Landgrave of Heſſe; but it is apprehended that this motion will be oppoſed by the ſeven Roman Catholic Electors, becauſe, tho' the preſent Prince of Heſſe be of their Communion, his ſons are educated Proteſtants.

Toulon, April 22. It is the Intention of the miniſtry, that the ſhips of war ſhould be laid up in the ports in which they were built; conformably to this deſign, we are diſarming here the Sovereign and the Warrior of 74 guns, which are returned from Rochfort, and the Sage of 64 from Breſt; we expect from that port alſo the Thunderer of 84, and the Hector of 74 guns; theſe veſſels, with five building in our docks, will make our whole number of ſhips of the line 23. Our two chebecks have cleared the coaſts of Provence of Corſairs. Mr. de Bompart, commandant of the marine, and Mr. de Hurſon, our ſuperintendant, were lately preſent at a trial of a new kind of oar; this machine, by the help of which large ſhips may move in a calm, conſiſts in a ſort of iron lattice or grate, all the leaves of which are moveable at both ends; they fold one over the other, and when the ſtroke is given the oar is ſhut, and reſiſts a vaſt column of water; between the ſtrokes it is open, and leaves a free paſſage to the current; the handle croſſes the edge of the ſhip, and is worked by five or ſix men.

LONDON, May 3.

We hear that the Directors of the Eaſt-India Company have ordered the payment of a certain annuity of 27,000l. to be ſtopt, till the ſhare of the indemnification granted by the Nabob to the heirs of the unhappy perſons who periſhed in the Black Hole at Calcutta be accounted for; it is alſo ſaid that the tract of country ceded by that Nabob to the Eaſt India Company, proves much leſs valuable than was expected.

They write from Bayonne, that there arrived that morning in the harbour five rafts or floats of maſts, brought down the Grave (which has lately been rendered navigable for the ſpace of four and twenty leagues) from the foreſt in the valley of Aſpe in Bearn, where 6000 trees have been felled, cut out into different ſorts of ſhip-timber, all which are to be ſucceſſively brought down by this new navigation. The five floats above-mentioned, being the firſt that ever were brought this way, were received in the port under a diſcharge of the cannon of the city and citadel, amidſt the acclamations of all the inhabitants.

"If we may depend on the opinions of thoſe who pretend to be well informed of what paſſes at different Courts, the chief attention is given to the perpetuating the public tranquility ſo happily reſtored.

"Our laſt accounts from Vienna adviſe, that great changes in the Miniſtry are ſtill talked of; that by the Empreſs's command, different plans have been laid before her for keeping almoſt all the regiments on the ſame footing as in time of war, in imitation of the policy of the Court of Berlin. Theſe advices add, that the Genoeſe continue to ſolicit a body of Auſtrians to be employed in reducing the Corſican malcontents; the Republic being reſolved to put a ſpeedy end to the conſuming war which it is forced to wage in that iſland."

May 9. We are informed, that two great Chiefs of the law are utterly of a different opinion as to the ſubject of a late determination.

We are aſſured the paragraph, in the London Evening Poſt of laſt Saturday, relating to Mr. Wilkes's franks being charged, is entirely falſe, and without the leaſt Foundation; the Poſt-Office having no right to judge in that affair.

Extract of a letter from Paris, April 27.

They write from Cadiz of the 5th paſt, that peace was proclaimed there the ſecond; and that the drought which had prevailed in that province for ſix weeks, gave them as much uneaſineſs for the enſuing harveſt, as the heavy rains in winter had done; and that notwithſtanding the number of veſſels that had arrived with corn, they had not ſunk the price.

May 12. Letters from Amſterdam mention an account received there from the Eaſt Indies, of the debarking 3000 Dutch troops on the iſland of Ceylon, by which force they have not only raiſed the ſiege of Columbo, but obliged the King of Candy to take ſhelter in one of his own fortreſſes, in a ſally from which he was taken priſoner; which advantage they hoped would be followed by an entire reduction of the whole iſland.

Thurſday morning as Prince William, ſecond brother to his Majeſty, was taking an airing along the New Road near Paddington, his horſe took fright at the wheel-barrow of an old man loaden with ſpinnage, which the horſe overſet, and beat the man into a ditch. His Royal Highneſs, with the greateſt humanity, immediately diſmounted, and made the man a preſent of ſeven guineas.

May 21. Every Engliſhman will hear with pleaſure of the edict of the French King, that was carried to the parliament on the 4th, which will give ſuch a blow to the credit of France, by the King's arbitrarily declaring, that all rents due by him ſhould be redeemable at twenty years purchaſe of their preſent produce. This is exactly the ſame thing as if the Engliſh Government, at the time when they gave about five per cent. for money, be paid off with 60l. for every 100l. that they lent to the public.

A certain determination will be one of the firſt points of buſineſs proceeded upon by an auguſt aſſembly. A gentleman who preſided in it for above 30 years, has declared his opinion, that privilege does not extend to a late caſe.

We can aſſure the public, from authority, that when Sir John Barnard was informed of the reſolution of the merchants to addreſs his Majeſty upon the peace, he declared his entire approbation, and deſired his name might be ſubſcribed thereto by the worthy gentleman to whom he has delegated his procuration.

It having been aſſerted in a ſpeech, ſaid to have been made by Mr. W----in the court of Common Pleas, that corrupt offers had been made him by the government: that gentleman is now called upon to declare when, how, by whom ſuch offers were made, and what they were. Mr. W. has been before challenged to make this declaration. If it is not ſoon complied with, the impartial public will conſider the inſinuation in the odious light it deſerves.

The time limited by the Court of Kings Bench for Mr. W--'s appearance elapſed on Saturday. As he has thought proper to ſtand out the proceſs of the Court, the few friends he has left, if any are yet remaining, may well be ſurprized how this conduct can be reconciled to the declarations of his readineſs to ſubmit to the verdict of his countrymen.

Mr. W----s has furniſhed himſelf with a complete ſett of printing materials; and, it is ſaid, will print his future lucubrations in his own houſe.

"The miniſtry are ſtill occupied with the regulations that might naturally have been expected to follow a general pacification; and which occaſion a frequent intercourſe by couriers, between our court and that of Vienna. The diſpatches ſent by thoſe couriers are ſaid to relate to the eſtabliſhing of a juſt equilibrium in Europe; the ballance having been long wavering, and now leaning viſibly to one ſide. The plan formed in 1735, will, it is ſaid, be again brought upon the carpet; and according to ſome people, who pretend to be well informed, what is now tranſacting, will infallibly give riſe to ſeveral new alliances, and produce very intereſting circumſtances. This ought to rouſe the attention of certain maritime powers, who in the end may poſſibly ſee cauſe to repent their remaining ſo long in a ſtate of lethargy."

St. James's, May 7. The following addreſs of the Court of Directors of the united Company of Merchants of England trading to the Eaſt Indies, has been preſented to his Majeſty: Which addreſs his Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

Moſt gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majeſty's loyal and faithful ſubjects, the Directors of the united Company of Merchants of England trading to the Eaſt Indies, humbly beg leave to congratulate your Majeſty on the happy concluſion of a long and burthenſome, though glorious and ſucceſsful war.

The re-eſtabliſhment of peace is an event that cannot be unintereſting to any of your Majeſty's ſubjects; but the peculiar attention your Majeſty has on this occaſion been pleaſed to beſtow on the intereſts of that great branch of the national commerce which we have the honour to conduct, calls upon us in particular for our juſt tribute of humble and grateful acknowledgment. When we reflect on the viciſſitudes we have experienced during the laſt eighteen years, for ſo long has the Company been engaged in an hoſtile competition with the French in India, we cannot but rejoice in a ſtate of ſuperiority and ſecurity, which the ſucceſſes of the Britiſh arms, and the wiſdom and firmneſs of your Majeſty's Councils, have at length obtained and eſtabliſhed. We feel, and ſhall always retain, the moſt grateful ſenſe of the ſupport and protection of government during the war, by which the Company's affairs abroad have been recovered from a more deſperate to a more proſperous condition than has ever been known at any former period.

We humbly entreat of your Majeſty a continuance of the ſame gracious and neceſſary ſupport and protection; and beg leave to aſſure your Majeſty, that we will aſſiduouſly labour to preſerve and improve the advantages of our preſent ſituation, and to render that invaluable trade, which in all ages has given opulence and power to the nations that have ſucceſſively enjoyed it, more extenſively beneficial to the whole community.

Extract of a Letter from Cumberland, in Frederick County, Maryland, dated July 16, 1763, One o'Clock in the Morning.

"Juſt now I received a melancholy Account from Colonel Creſap's, which is as follows, viz. That on the 13th Inſtant the Indians fired upon ſix Men ſhocking Wheat in the Colonel's Field, and killed one Man, but were prevented from ſcalping him, by another firing upon them as they ran up. On the 14th five Indians fired upon ſixteen Men, as they were ſitting, ſtanding and lying under a large Tree, at the End of Col. Creſap's Lane, about 100 Yards from his Houſe, and wounded one Man, but on being fired at by the white Men, who wounded one or more of them, as appeared by the great Quantity of Blood found on their Tracks, they immediately ran off, and were purſued, but could not be overtaken. Some Time after ſeveral Guns were fired in the Woods adjacent, on which a Party went in Queſt of them, and found three Beeves juſt killed. On the 15th, about Ten o'Clock in the Morning, as Mr. Welder was going to a Houſe of his, about 300 Yards diſtant from Mr. Creſap's, with three Men, and ſeveral Women, the Indians, to the Amount of 20, or upwards, ruſhed on them from a riſing Ground, but on being perceived by the white Party they ran back, hallooing, which being heard by the People at the Houſe, they immediately went to their Aſſiſtance, and met them and the Indians at the End of Col. Creſap's Lane, about 100 Yards from his Houſe, as mentioned before, on which the Enemy immediately fired on them, and killed Mr. Welder; the Party of White Men returned their Fire, killed one of them dead on the Spot, and wounded ſeveral more, as appeared by the Blood left in the Field, and on their Tracks.---The Colonel expects daily to be farther diſtreſs'd, and is in much Want of Aſſiſtance: The Indians are gone towards the Cove, below Bedford, and it is ſuſpected they are the Party that went to the Southward ſome Time ago, as we have got two Rifles, and one ſmooth Bore, which Col. Creſap's Son thinks belonged to thoſe who went there, with a great many other Implements, which they were obliged to leave behind them. The Indians were very bold and daring for ſome Time, and one more ſo in particular, who cut Mr. Welder in the Back, and divided his Ribs from the Back Bone, after he was ſhot down, but we prevented his being ſcalped. Mr. Creſap's youngeſt Son ſcalped the Indian. The other Perſon killed was one Wade; the Perſon wounded Richard Morris.----A Party that went this Day up the River, are juſt now returned, and inform, that at the Houſe of Joſeph Mount, they found a Hog killed, and laid upon a Shelf in the Houſe, bleeding freſh, by which they conjectured the Indians had not been gone above Half an Hour from thence; upon which they tracked them along the Old Warrior Road, that leads up Wills's Creek, towards Bedford; and ſoon after perceived a great Smoak coming through the Gap of ſaid Creek, which made them think that the Enemy had burnt all the Houſes there, but could not be ſatisfied of it, as Night came on."

That the Party under the Sheriff, Mr. Dunning (mentioned in our laſt) fell in with the Enemy, at the Houſe of one Alexander Logan, in Shearman's Valley, ſuppoſed to be about Fifteen, or upwards, who had murdered the ſaid Logan, his Son, and another Man, about two Miles from ſaid Houſe, and mortally wounded a Fourth, who is ſince dead; and that at the Time of their being diſcovered they were rifling the Houſe, and ſhooting down the Cattle, and, it is thought, about to return home with the Spoil they had got.-----That our Men, on ſeeing them, immediately ſpread themſelves from Right to Left, with a Deſign to ſurround them, and engaged the Savages with great Courage, but, from their Eagerneſs, rather too ſoon, as ſome of the Party had not got up when the Skirmiſh began: That the Enemy returned our firſt Fire very briſkly; but our People, regardleſs of that, ruſhed upon them, when they fled, and were purſued a conſiderable Way, till Thickets ſecured their Eſcape, four or five of them, it was thought, being mortally wounded: That our Parties had brought in with them what Cattle they could collect, but that great Numbers were killed by the Indians, and many of the Horſes, that were in the Valleys, carried off: That on the Twenty-firſt, in the Morning, News was brought of three Indians being ſeen about 3 Miles from Shippenſburgh: That on the Twenty-ſecond, about Ten o'Clock in the Morning, one Pummeroy, and his Wife, and the Wife of one Johnſton, were ſurprized in a Houſe, between Shippenſburgh and the North Mountain, and left there for dead; but that one of the Women, when found, ſhewing ſome Signs of Life, was brought to Shippenſburgh, where ſhe lived ſome Hours in a moſt miſerable Condition, being ſcalped, one of her Arms broke, and her Scull cracked with the Stroke of a Tomahawk: And that, ſince the Tenth Inſtant, there was an Account of Fifty-four Perſons being killed by the Enemy.

There are many Letters in Town, in which the Diſtreſſes of the Frontier Inhabitants are ſet forth in a moſt moving and ſtriking Manner; but as theſe Letters are pretty much the ſame, and it would be endleſs to inſert the whole, the following is the Subſtance of ſome of them, as near as we can recollect, viz.

"That the Indians had ſet Fire to Houſes, Barns, Corn, Hay, and, in ſhort, to every Thing that was combuſtible; ſo that the whole Country ſeemed to be in one general Blaze----That the Miſeries and Diſtreſſes of the poor People were really ſhocking to Humanity, and beyond the Power of Language to deſcribe ---That Carliſle was become the Barrier, not a ſingle Inhabitant being beyond it----That every Stable and Hovel in the Town was crowded with miſerable Refugees, who were reduced to a State of Beggary and Deſpair; their Houſes, Cattle and Harveſt deſtroyed; and from a plentiful, independent People, they were become real Objects of Charity and Commiſeration----That it was moſt diſmal to ſee the Streets filled with People, in whoſe Countenances might be diſcovered a Mixture of Grief, Madneſs and Deſpair; and to hear, now and then, the Sighs and Groans of Men; the diſconſolate Lamentations of Women; and the Screams of Children, who had loſt their neareſt and deareſt Relatives: And that on both Sides of the Saſquehannah, for ſome Miles, the Woods were filled with poor Families, and their Cattle, who make Fires, and live like the Savages."

On Sunday Night next, at St. PAUL'S CHURCH, in this City, will be preached a Charity Sermon, by the Rev. Mr. WILLIAM MACCLENACHAN; and the Money that may be then collected, is to be applied towards the Relief of the abovementioned unhappy Sufferers, who have been driven from their Habitations by a cruel and Blood-thirſty Enemy.---Hymns, ſuitable to the Occaſion, will be performed by the Organ and Singers.---And it is to be hoped, that all charitably diſpoſed Perſons will chearfully embrace this Opportunity, of throwing in a ſmall Part of what it may have pleaſed God to bleſs them with, to this moſt neceſſary Charity.

A Gentleman, from Carliſle, informs us, that in a Letter from Auguſta County, in Virginia, dated the 16th Inſtant, it is ſaid, That the Settlements of Green Briar, and Jackſon's River, in that Colony, were cut off by the Indians, a few of the Inhabitants only eſcaping: And that in another Letter from Virginia, Mention was made of a prodigious Extent of Country being entirely evacuated by our People.

By Captain Haſelton, who left Martinico the 28th ult. we are informed, that the Night before he ſailed, a Man of War Snow (but no Tranſports) arrived there from England, with Orders to deliver up that Place to the French; and that the Engliſh were to go to Dominico till Veſſels ſhould arrive, or others could be got, to carry them home.

And by Captain Patterſon, from the Havannah, there is Advice, that that Place was delivered up to the Spaniards on the Sixth Inſtant.
